

I tried being reasonable, I didn't like it.
- Clint Eastwood

Reasonableness can be useful, but when you want to find your love from 1000 generations past or need to stand up to monsters or bad guys or corrupt ideas against incredible odds, those are times I forget reason and do what's needed. Like when one enemy is over there and another is over here and you're in the middle. That's when I like to tell the bad guys to make my day! And I'll bet Mr Eastwood is with me on that!
